Hi Katherine,

How are you?

I'm getting in touch because I'm writing an article on targeted individuals, and am keen to feature the experiences of people like you.

Depending on where you are, we could meet face to face, or simply conduct a phone chat, at your convenience.

I would be happy to send over the article for your approval prior to publication, and would only publish if and when you are happy with the text.

Do let me know either way.

Thanks.

Hi,

Sure we can do that. We can have a chat via Skype or Google Hangouts if you like. And it would be good if I could see the article before publication. I also reserve the right to record the interview from my end, just in case I need to prove what I said exactly.

Please forgive the precaution. It's not because I distrust you or your outlet particularly, but rather because every single mainstream British and German news outlet that I contacted in the past has behaved like a bunch of war criminals, which is what they all seem to be. :)

But otherwise, if you are willing to help us blow these crimes against humanity wide open then it will be my pleasure to work with you.

Let me know what time suits you for a chat.

Best wishes,

Katherine

Hi Katherine,

Great to hear from you! Delighted you're interested.

We can chat however you like - I record all my interviews anyway so can send you the audio from my end.

You're right on the war criminals part - and yes I am very much willing to!

Obviously I'm off for a few days now, returning to work on the 2nd. Let me know when suits you and I'll make space in my diary.

Happy new year!

Kit

Hi Kit,

Ok, enjoy your time off. I'm pretty flexible in early January. I'm off until the 9th presumably but I can give you the master-download about all you want to know then.

Have a good start into the New Year!

Katherine

Dear Kit,

I'm free apart from the time slot of 4-8pm (Berlin time) which is reserved for my team and Techno Crime Fighters' Forum. Would the morning or early afternoon suit you?

Anthony Verney: http://www.whale.to/b/victorian_ch_7.htm

One thing that jumps out to me is that, in an attempt to get his experiences into court, as a self-employed individual he refused to pay his taxes, assuming the then Inland Revenue would prosecute him, and he could get his complaints heard by a court. Yet, the Revenue did nothing! This is virtually impossible - Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs nail pretty much anyone who doesn't cough up.

What a great strategy! Will be in touch with more info soon. Meanwhile, here is a very good intro to the California "forest fires", where the forest was the only one that didn't burn:

Hey Katherine,

How are you?

It was great chatting the other day and I can't wait to get writing up the story.

I'm still yet to receive a recording of our chat - could you resend? Also, as we discussed, please send over some relevant documentation I can add to the piece, if you'd be so kind.

Have a great weekend, and keep fighting the good fight.

Ah, didn't that file arrive via Skype? I copied it straight away. Hang on. Oh, I see it now says "There was a problem copying the file". It sent it at 12:24 my time that day (11:24 UK).

I've uploaded it again. The file should either be visible now or arrive within the next 15min.

Regarding documentation, there is lots you can find if you click your way through my site <https://stop007.org>

You can find info on my team members for download at my team website <https://jointinvestigation.org>

Over the coming days there should be more information being made public. I'm working on the reference lists now.

Dear Kit,

Please could you let me know how you used my interview? Is an article going to be published using my interview? Is an article going to be published on targeted individuals, as you said on the 29th December 2017? Please could you send me the link?

Thank you,

Katherine
