Hi Katherine, I just reached out to Ramola with the note pasted below to attempt to mend the rift between you two. Just thought I would let you know this was proposed to her:

Thomas

RE:

Hi Ramola, I was very VERY shocked and perplexed by the choice that you, Karen and Millicent made to cut ties with Dr Katherine. I actually agree that Katherine's use of swearing is somewhat unprofessional at times, and more significantly, she often doesn't articulate specifically, when she calls for the death of the scumbags waging war against us, that she means via a legal court process--thus makes your team vulnerable to accusations of being a violent group. That said the A-M-A-Z-I-N-G work she has done vastly overshadows these moderate missteps--and after all she is working under utterly extreme conditions that would at best make anyone prone to at least these moderate emotional outbursts. The three of you together are a powerful force and compliment each others personas and credentials powerfully. Moreover, as you know Katherine is just about to launch the Global Affidavit Campaign that is the crowning achievement of the JIT, thus far, and seriously threatens to end the entire program of global organized stalking. It seems to me that the JIT is riding a wave of serious momentum that is on the verge of serious progress--so I ask you to reconsider your choice, and see if you can work out your disagreements with Katherine to keep the team together, and ride the wave of momentum you have all worked so hard to create.

Also, I just want to put out there the possibility that you, Karen and Millicent are being hit with very subtle covert mind influencing technologies to make you turn on Katherine. I myself have recently noticed that certain negative feelings that I was experiencing were in fact very VERY subtle covert mind influencing tech that were used on me previously, but because I had figured them out previously, were now being used on me in a very subtle way, that I in fact, was taking seriously for a short while before I realized it was mind weapon tech...

The three of you together seems to me the most powerful way forward, for all three of you individually, and the entire movement to end these crimes and hold those responsible to account.

Stay Strong,

Thank you, Thomas. That was a great service.

We will see what happens. I think the best is now to let it all cool down to that we can all approach it objectively. Meanwhile, I will continue with what I started on Wednesday and do my best to move the affidavits forward this weekend.

We need to make progress whatever they are doing to us.
